ALLERGY SEASON SURVIVAL TIPS BY Clifford w. Bassett, MD

Stay one step ahead for an allergy-free season! First, you need to know if you have seasonal allergies so you can customize a successful allergen avoidance and management plan. Allergies can take a toll on many areas of your life. Sleep is a big one. Allergy sufferers are often sleepy during the day, especially if you are hooked on drowsiness-causing OTC medications or insomnia-causing oral decongestants. Daytime fatigue can actually be caused, in part, as a result of blocked nasal passages that disrupt sleep patterns.

Get the right treatment to control your seasonal and indoor allergies, so you can breathe better at night and have a better quality rest.

Here are some allergy survival strategies:

Stay Cool: cool eye compresses may improve appearance and reduce unwanted eye allergy symptoms.

Be a Star: wear big sunglasses to block pollen entry into your eyes, especially on windy days.

Rinse Wisely: Wash your eyelids gently when you wash your face each morning.

Wear a Hat: get a sombrero! Wear a wide-brimmed to prevent pollens from landing on top of your head.

Say No to Hair Gel: Don't use hair gel and similar hair care products that can act as "pollen magnets" during the height of allergy season.

Avoid the Pollen Problem: consider exercising indoors on very high pollen days. Higher levels of pollens are usually found on warm, dry and windy days.

Know your Pollen Count: Go to aaaai.org/nab for accurate pollen and mold levels in your area.

Don't Line Dry: Never line dry clothing outdoors on high pollen days, it will adhere to your linens, towels, etc.

Avoid Window Fans: this is a rather good way to bring in unwanted pollens or mold spores.

Avoid Cross-Reactions: as many as 1 in 3 seasonal allergy sufferers may experience "oral allergy syndrome" (tingling of the mouth or itchy throat) after ingesting certain foods (apples, pears, carrots, celery, peaches, cherries, as well as almonds and hazelnuts. If you have seasonal tree pollen allergies, this is due to a cross-reaction between the proteins in these foods and the pollens. Melons, tomatoes and oranges may crass -react with grass pollens. If your are sensitive to weed pollens watch out for melon, chamomile tea, and banana. Enjoy the great outdoors with these simple, practical ways to stay allergy Free!

PICKETT LIONS CLUB

The last regular meeting for the Pickett Lions was held at Jaspers on March 4th. Thanks to all the club members and members from the community who made all the fundraisers and events in February a big success. Any Scholarship committee members should be at the April 1 meeting, we will be reviewing the applicants that night. Elections for new club officers will be held in May, please be present to contribute. There will be a multi-zone meeting on April 29th at CJ's at the Wayside in Ripon. Anyone interested in going can see Chad to be put on the list. Our next meeting will be held on April 1st at Jaspers, anyone interested in attending is welcome.

PICKETT HORSE CLUB

Spring cannot come soon enough. The snow is not so bad, but the ice sure makes it hard to get around the barn yard. It will be nice to get out on a trail ride and get the horses in shape for the riding season. If anyone would like to join us, we meet at the Pickett Community center, the 2nd Wednesday of the month at 7pm. We will have election of officers at the March 13 meeting. We meet at 7:30 during Lent.

Election of Town Treasurer
Vote Brenda Morrell

Hello my name is Brenda Morrell and I am currently serving as your Town of Utica Treasurer. I was appointed by Betty Messerschmidt to fulfill her term as a result of her illness last year. I am pleased to be running for the position again this April. I have lived in the Utica Township for the past 13 years with my husband and three children. I am a CPA and have 20 years of public accounting experience in various roles. I previously held the position of Town of Utica Clerk, computerizing Town operations and setting up electronic communications. I am currently the controller of Green Lake Conference Center and Lawsonia Golf Course, in which I work three days a week. I have enjoyed meeting and getting to know each of you over my years of service. I would like the pleasure of serving you again for the next 2 years as Treasurer and would appreciate your vote on April 2nd. Thank you!!

PICKETT 4-H

Our club meeting was held on Feb. 24th. The club is trying to decide on a club trip. On March 3rd we met at the Schroeder's to do some sledding and pizza. Lucas Scheier gave his demonstration on ice fishing and how a tip up works. Maya Verch gave her demonstration on how she makes smoothies and made some for everyone to sample. We made Easter items for Fountainview nursing home at our meeting on March 24th. April's meeting will be on Sunday, April 28th at 6:00 at the PCC.
